The New York Times reported this past weekend that the CDC has chosen not to publish huge amounts of COVID data, instead keeping it secret, because it fears that the information would cause 'vaccine hesitancy' among the American public.

The reality is that my voice is much more powerful than John Oliver's. The NYT, WaPo, CNN, and MSNBC have been lying about CRT for the past year—and the public doesn't believe them.

P.S. The reason John Oliver and Trevor Noah aren't funny is because, traditionally, the court jester is supposed to mock the nobility; Oliver and Noah, by contrast, sneer at the population "below" them.

They're not a challenge to power; they're a mouthpiece for power.

The delight of political comedy comes from the assumption of risk. The jester, if he errs, might get beheaded by the king. He goes right up to that line and, consequently, has the audience in rapt attention.

Oliver and Noah risk nothing; they are bland propaganda for the regime.

This is also the reason they hate Joe Rogan. Rogan is rich and famous, but he has a vox populi style appeal and chooses to hang out with déclassé lunatics like Alex Jones. He's constantly pushing the boundaries of elite opinion, assuming real risks. And he's funny.

You have never spent one second of your life thinking about Ukraine or worrying about who controls the different regions of it. But now in an instant you must care deeply about this issue, even if nobody can explain why, or else you are traitorous scum.

The whole clip is him clearly comparing what China has done to what Russia has not done. Nice stripping of context to push an agenda, though.

I've said this for years, and it's only getting more true—woke insanity is a national security threat.

As governments in the West are radicalizing, they're pushing away at least half their populations who are looking for relative traditionalism. They will find champions abroad.

Putin attempts to justify Ukraine attack by asserting he's just fighting Nazis, an excuse I remember hearing quite a number of times before by other people trying to justify senseless violence.

New study shows that covid school closures affected cognitive and motor development in preschoolers. Learning loss is most pronounced in kids most at risk. We must focus on keeping kids in school and on closing educational disparities. @briannagolodryga srcd.onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.111...

this study is about some 4 to 6 year olds in Uruguay
we are to build national policy for all schools in the USA based on this?
Do we ever look to Uruguay to inform our educational system?
Not saying we shouldn't, but have we ever?
Even once?

Science is science. I hope you don't believe that we only accept data that comes out of the U.S. Uruguay is not some backwards education system. It's becoming quite clear in our nation how far children have fallen behind due to lockdowns

Justin Trudeau released a statement saying this was "totally understandable" and that he agreed with Putin on rounding up protestors. Going on further Mr. Trudeau advised Putin to "cut off their banking access to teach them a lesson."

The New York Times @nytimes

Thousands of protesters took to the streets of Russian cities on Thursday to protest President Vladimir Putin's decision to invade Ukraine. The police detained more than 600 people in Moscow alone, according to a rights group. nyti.ms/3BLEEhk

This is how damaging social media has become. Every major situation that occurs gets instantly processed through the virtue signalling, orthodoxy generator called Twitter. People instantly abandon principles and values they appeared to hold yesterday and adopt diametrically opposing ones. Everyone is told exactly what to think and how to react. Mindless zombies are convinced that changing a profile picture to a flag or sharing a hashtag is somehow 'doing something' about the problem. Widespread hysteria and sensationalism takes hold within hours and anybody who asks rational questions or suggests an even slightly different narrative is quickly smeared as a dangerous weirdo. And whatever the situation is, be it a pandemic or a war, it just rolls on until it's replaced by the next excuse to whip up some unthinking lunacy

This means that nothing ever gets properly interrogated. Nothing is reflected on. Nobody is ever made to understand what they got wrong. Debate becomes redundant. Discourse withers and dies. Only a tiny minority of people remain who are capable of independent thought.

Part of it's probably familiarity with European heritage, but I also think we have become desensitized to violence/war in the middle east and Africa because those regions feel like they are in a perpetual state of war. Europe used to be that way but hasn't for decades

Remember when NATO imposed a 'no fly zone' over Libya? I do.

It led to...

- The destruction of Libya
- The rise of ISIS
- The Paris massacre
- The global migrant crisis

And all that would be a walk in the park compared to what would happen if one were imposed over Ukraine.

A No Fly Zone enforced by NATO is an act of war that could easily start A NUCLEAR WAR.
It is INSANE & coming from many of the same people who gave us Iraq/Afghan disasters.
People who suggest it/similar shd be nowhere near power.

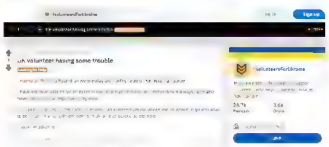
304 Don't discourage those without military experience to go to Ukraine



Hear me out for one second. If you have been in the military or even know anything about the military and combat. A massive amount of manpower is allocated to support troops non combat roles. Mechanics, cooks, truck drivers, medics, engineers, construction engineers, heck even just basic laborers, and a plethora of other roles are needed. Filling these roles frees up others to move to combat. Additionally, these volunteers can go through some form of basic training while there or even engage in combat frequently.

PS. Anyone who has served knows damn well that some MOS are less qualified or combat oriented than others. Not everyone is cut out to be a grunt. Some people are better suited for support roles.

Finally, don't worry about being too much of a liability. Anyone in heavily ill-prepared state, make reckless, irrecoverable mistakes, or try to loot russian tanks and APCs. The situation there is really that bad. Even if all you can do is truck a few tons of food supplies into Kyiv and bring supplies into Kyiv, that's an invaluable service. So the key is likely going to be under stage soon. You don't need to be Rambo.

Also, please, when you if you're not committed to stay away, and you are doing more harm than good, or ignorant. There are transportation themselves in Kyiv, you should be a HUGE liability as an American fighter. There's a way of effectively doing this and doing it well. Just because of you, was a disaster, what's happened to people. Also, make sure you are prepared to come home alive and without injury physically.

Ukraine is NOT a "do whatever. They are fighting for survival. Are "Hitlers And, RAMBONE HEROES Don't be naive. They won't help you with their personal fantasy. So, no, don't be a loadmaster with them. You will be left with the ruthless, kind, likely who cannot empathize. If that does still make you want to go, please, start making modelski, why, he both would you be a headmaster in Berlin? He is so excited. It becomes hard to know when kids often are orphans of their battle to go and fight.

Is there any merit to the thought that those fleeing east may be seeking asylum in a country they favor? Not well versed in this enough to know

A Intercontinental @ · 2h
More the reason for naming them refugees other than migrants. 630 mill on people are likely leaving the war zone. Stigmatizing them for going east and not west prior to any better judgement is just political bias that adds to the original question behind the conflict.

Remember when NATO imposed a 'no fly zone' over Libya? I do.

It led to...

- The destruction of Libya
- The rise of ISIS
- The Paris massacre
- The global migrant crisis

And all that would be a walk in the park compared to what would happen if one were imposed over Ukraine.

An international cat federation has banned all Russian-owned and bred cats from competing in international competitions, in a move that's sure to stop Putin's attack on Ukraine.

No, this isn't a Babylon Bee story.

Does anyone know what international law says about cutting off water supplies to civilians? I have seen remarkably little discussion of nice, liberal Ukraine's shutting off of the main water supply to Crimea after 2014.

Ironic that RT is being banned for "propaganda" when there have been about 8 major stories breathlessly amplified by legacy media outlets in the west in just 1 week that have proven to be completely fabricated.

What are the consequences for that? Where are the 'fact checkers'?

Nearly every day for 2 years, I've seen a 'fact checking' section on the 'what's happening' segment of Twitter.

And yet during the course of a week of huge stories that turned out to be exaggerated or outright false, I haven't seen the fact checking box once.

Funny, that.

That time when ISIS announced its plan to recruit social justice warriors because they broadly share the same goals.

European Muslims allying with Left-wing Activists:

A growing population of left-winged activists (people who are against; human/animal abuses, Zionism, and Austerity measures etc) look upto the Muslims as a force who are strong enough to fight against the injustices of the world. It seems from the article below that many of these people (who are sometimes part of Anonymous and Anarchy movements) will ally with the Muslims to fight against the neo-Nazis' and rich politicians. They will give intelligence, share weapons and do undercover work for the Muslims to pave the way for the conquest of Rome

How will this happen?

If you have ever been at a pro-Palestine / anti-Israel protest, you will see many activists who are not even Muslims who are supportive of what Muslims are calling for (the fall of Zionism). It is most likely here that connections between Muslims and Left-wing activists will be made, and a portion from them will realise that protests are not effective, and that armed combat is the alternative. So they will start to work together in small cells of groups to fight and sabotage against the 'financial elite'

That time when ISIS announced its plan to recruit social justice warriors because they broadly share the same goals.

European Muslims allying with Left-wing Activists:

A growing population of left-winged activists (people who are against; human/animal abuses, Zionism, and Austerity measures etc) look upto the Muslims as a force who are strong enough to fight against the injustices of the world. It seems from the article below that many of these people (who are sometimes part of Anonymous and Anarchy movements) will ally with the Muslims to fight against the neo-Nazis' and rich politicians. They will give intelligence, share weapons and do undercover work for the Muslims to pave the way for the conquest of Rome

How will this happen?

If you have ever been at a pro-Palestine / anti-Israel protest, you will see many activists who are not even Muslims who are supportive of what Muslims are calling for (the fall of Zionism). It is most likely here that connections between Muslims and Left-wing activists will be made, and a portion from them will realise that protests are not effective, and that armed combat is the alternative. So they will start to work together in small cells of groups to fight and sabotage against the 'financial elite'

That time when ISIS announced its plan to recruit social justice warriors because they broadly share the same goals.

European Muslims allying with Left-wing Activists:

A growing population of left-winged activists (people who are against; human/animal abuses, Zionism, and Austerity measures etc) look upto the Muslims as a force who are strong enough to fight against the injustices of the world. It seems from the article below that many of these people (who are sometimes part of Anonymous and Anarchy movements) will ally with the Muslims to fight against the neo-Nazis' and rich politicians. They will give intelligence, share weapons and do undercover work for the Muslims to pave the way for the conquest of Rome

How will this happen?

If you have ever been at a pro-Palestine / anti-Israel protest, you will see many activists who are not even Muslims who are supportive of what Muslims are calling for (the fall of Zionism). It is most likely here that connections between Muslims and Left-wing activists will be made, and a portion from them will realise that protests are not effective, and that armed combat is the alternative. So they will start to work together in small cells of groups to fight and sabotage against the 'financial elite'

What's the argument that Saudi Arabia is more moral, ethical, humane and/or democratic than Russia, and buying oil from the Saudi despots instead of Russia is an advancement of noble or virtuous values? Does anyone have a link to an article that would help understand this view?

Ukraine has "biological research facilities," says Undersecretary of State Victoria Nuland, when asked by Sen Rubio if Ukraine has biological or chemical weapons, and says she's worried Russia may get them. But she says she's 100% sure if there's a biological attack, it's Russia.

Really good clean-up by Rubio, interrupting Nuland's bizarre confession, which he did not expect, and immediately directing her to say that if there's a biological attack, it must be Russia.

Why is she so concerned Russia would seize such a benign "biological research facility"?

It's one of those odd yet revealing facts of Washington that under both Obama and now Biden, the person in charge of Ukraine policy at the State Department is a hard core neocon from the royal neocon Kagan family. Beloved by both parties.

What you and your ilk fail to appreciate is how tediously familiar I find your tactics. I had a violent ex-husband who used to tell me life would be great if only I'd comply, but you're making the same mistake he did. Women like me can't be bullied out of resistance.

This may come as a surprise to some (morons), but saying you'll open up your home to a refugee isn't the same as actually doing it. About 99% of them won't and are being dishonest about it. Crazy, I know.

What do people think a No Fly Zone is? It's not a board game, you don't just say "ooh you pulled the no fly card, you can't fly over Ukraine for the rest of the game. bad luck!" It's real life. It means ground troops, shooting down planes, and, ultimately, all out nuclear war.

Glenn Greenwald

The object ons to anything all of this today are dead ch predictable. Reporting on Hunter Biden is irrelevant since he was not running a candidate what made the reporting relevant was what it revea ed about the involvement of Joe B den in these deals. Given the war in Ukra ne, now is not the t me to discuss all of this despite the fact that they are deadly ignored, there are always harmful wars being waged even if the victims are not as sympa hetic as European Ukrainians and the perpetrators are the Bad Guys and not the Bad Guys. The real reason most Democrats and their media allies do not want to hear about any of this is because they believe that the means they used deliberately lying to the public with CIA disinformation are justified by their noble ends defeating Trump.

Zelensky appeared on NBC News tonight in an oddly-edited interview, and suggested that World War III has "already started." Are we allowed to reject such a claim as catastrophically insane, or is the only permissible response still to continue lathering praise on this individual Russell Brand has recently.

- Rightly vilified the odious Trudeau.
- Dared talk about bio-labs in Ukraine
- Highlighted Big Pharma corruption.

And now the regime comes for him.

Gee, I wonder why?

OFCOM has now banned RT from broadcasting in the UK due to their 'lack of impartiality and unfair coverage.'

Did the BBC, Sky etc give impartial coverage on the 100% true Hunter Biden story or did they lie about it and cover it up?

If so why aren't their licences removed?

Imane Seth Rogen Tweets: A Thread

Hollywood Comedian and famous stoner Seth Rogen is a pretty outspoken and unhinged guy on Twitter. This is a compilation thread of some of his insane tweets.

Below: Seth Rogen bullies a child

now available on HBOMAX! Hey white people, a Jewish guy is playing fucking Santa Claus and there's nothing you can do about it! We're stealing Christmas! Fuck y'all! Tee hee

Seth Rogen @Sethrogen

As someone who has Tourette's & their family (and also has a very mild case himself), I once again take great pleasure in telling you to go fuck yourself. (Also VERY few cases of Tourette's manifest in uncontrollable swearing. Most cases, like mine, manifest in twitching.)

Ted Cruz @tedcruz · 23h

They're all dead. So I think we're good. And Walt Disney was a Republican.

Even though you behave primie like a Marxist with Tourette's (screaming 'F U! F U!' is really, really clever), your movies are typically pretty funny.

I'm sure you hate that I enjoy them, twitter.com/sethrogen/stat...

I don't like to beef publicly on Twitter but if I see you starting shit I'm gonna come up in your face. Literally some of the shit you MFs post gets me so angry and with my Tourette's it really makes my twitching difficult to control - like I'm shaking so much I can't even stand.

Seth, I love your movies and I really don't want to get into an argument about this but it was six million. I don't know why you're exaggerating. Please stop. I'm not trying to make a political point I just don't understand why you say these things.

POLITICS Hunter Biden Paid Tax Bill, but Broad Federal Investigation Continues

People familiar with the investigation said prosecutors had examined emails between Mr. Biden, Mr. Archer and others about Burisma and other foreign business activity. Those emails were obtained by The New York Times from a cache of files that appears to have come from a laptop abandoned by Mr. Biden in a Delaware repair shop. The email and others in the cache were authenticated by people familiar with them and with the investigation.

In some of the emails, Mr. Biden displayed a familiarity with FARA, and a desire to avoid triggering it.

500,000 killed in the Ethiopian civil war in the past 16 months. Govt using Turkish drones to air strike refugee camps. No flags in bios for that one bc the regime has no financial interests there.

No one's going to get through to Putin. The point is to break through the lies that The Kremlin are feeding the Russian people.

Anyone else think that more modern relevant actors could come out and make a video? Like a collaborative effort from the Marvel cast, or Star Wars cast, or Harry Potter cast. Imagine a video with the entire Avengers all appealing to the Russian people or demanding Putin to stop. Surely Putin has a favourite actor who could get through to him. For me, if Captain Marvel told me to stop doing something, I know I'd be powerless to continue Weird article in the Spectator this week where one of cancel culture's most strident critics, Douglas Murray, virtually celebrates RT getting its broadcast license pulled.

Will Smith will not tolerate other men making jokes about his wife. He will however tolerate other men having sex with his wife. This is a man of principle.

Russia's invasion of Ukraine is unjust. NATO and Biden used Ukraine in an effort to ratchet up hostilities. The regime wants to start WW3 for their profit.

We used to believe as a society that the only time violence was acceptable was in self defence, facing direct threat of physical harm.

Now it's ok for anyone to walk up on to any stage and smash someone in the face if they are offended by what's being said.

Rubicon crossed.

It seems rather odd to assert, on the one hand, that Putin is a totalitarian dictator who instantly murders or imprisons anyone who utters a peep of dissent against him, then turn around and demand that Russian athletes and artists do exactly that if they want to earn a living.

It's absolutely bizarre to me, why Will Smith would defend his wife, who didn't care about him, cheated on him numerous times and then humiliated him by telling the whole world about it.

The liberal man is effeminate, weak and cowardly. This is sad.

With all COVID rules in England gone, it is strange & also weirdly enjoyable for me (zero jabs), to walk around supermarkets still seeing petrified double mask-wearers who have had 3 jabs, soon to be 4, with that paranoid, angry look in their eyes.

They really won't let it go.

the days of usenet, irc, the web...even email (w PGP)...were amazing. centralizing discovery and identity into corporations really damaged the internet.

I realize I'm partially to blame, and regret it.

Nah. Twitter is awesome and we didn't know better back in the day. Now's the time to build differently.

There's been a decentralised alternative to Twitter for a very long time – Mastodon. The problem is critical mass, I've joined a few groups and it's fine but there's not enough traffic so it tends to be a ghost town.

They lobby for "boots on the ground" as if the past half century didn't happen.

When in that time have "boots on the ground" led to anything but more sustained carnage?

Do they think we're that dumb?

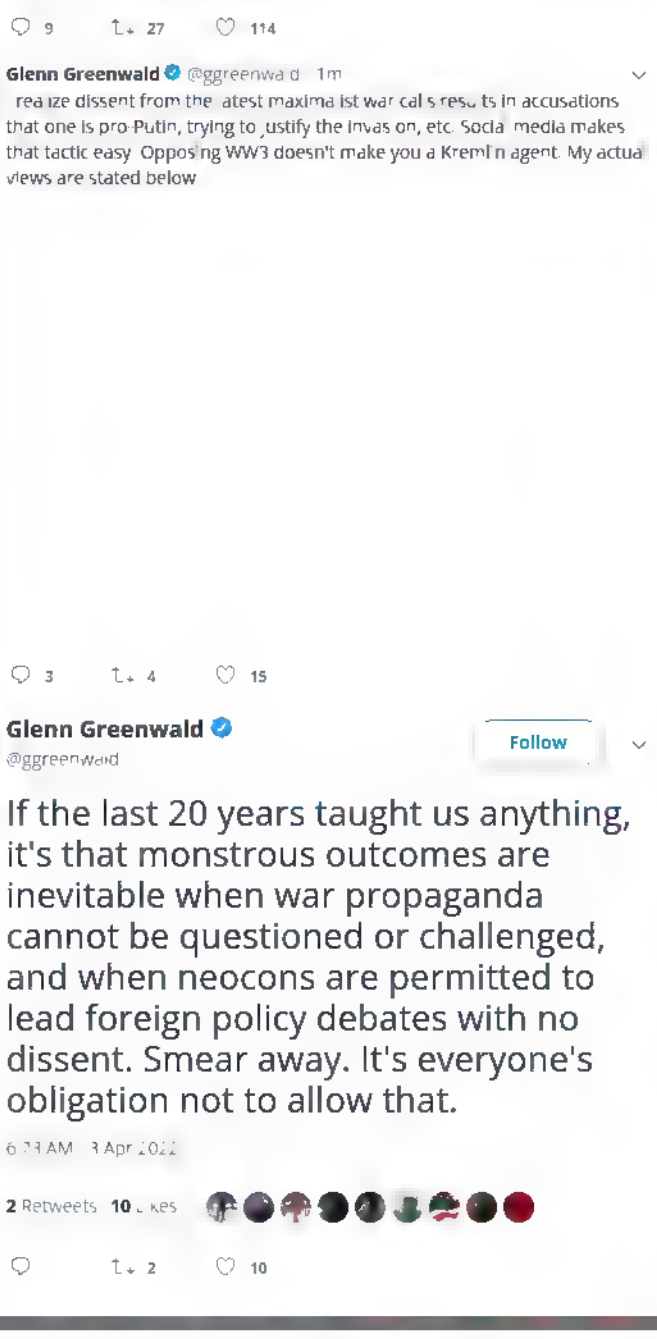
The calculus for the US entering the war in Ukraine against Russia as a direct belligerent rather than treating Ukraine as its proxy war has not and will not change.

Nothing is more dangerous than the world's two largest nuclear armed powers in a direct war Obama 2016:

9 28 137

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald 8m



It's very alarming watching people who should know better see a few photos and video snippets posted by one of the governments fighting the war, then let their valid emotional revulsion lead them to proclaim it's time for WW3 Nobody's immune to social media's manipulations

8 41 192

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald 5m

To put things in some perspective: the official civilian death toll after the first 6-8 weeks of the US invasion of Iraq was more than 8,000 due to "Shock and Awe"

The civilian death toll in Ukraine is just over 1,000. It's all hideous, but calls for WW3 require sobriety

8 38 120

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald 3m

If I had one political wish, it'd be that all wars – especially those waged by the US and its allies – received the same amount and type of media attention as what Ukraine is getting, and their war victims received the same empathy

The world would look very different.

9 27 114

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald 1m

Realize dissent from the latest maximalist war call's results in accusations that one is pro-Putin, trying to justify the invasion, etc. Social media makes that tactic easy. Opposing WW3 doesn't make you a Kremlin agent. My actual views are stated below

If the last 20 years taught us anything, it's that monstrous outcomes are inevitable when war propaganda cannot be questioned or challenged, and when neocons are permitted to lead foreign policy debates with no dissent. Smear away. It's everyone's obligation not to allow that.

Contrary to the regime propaganda, the election in Hungary was never going to be close.

When an actual free and fair election happens, the populist wins.

If you decide your "activism" is going to be based on begging Silicon Valley billionaires to censor the views and people you dislike off the internet, it may happen that one day a Silicon Valley billionaire wants to censor you and the views you like instead, or not censor at all.

The messaging control Twitter now ensures is too important to DC power centers to let it go without a huge fight. I doubt even Elon Musk could just convert it back into a free speech platform without some major war.

Ukraine is asking the International Criminal Court to investigate what happened at Bucha. This is similar to the Polish government in exile asking the Red Cross to investigate what happened at Katyn. The Ukrainians don't act like they have something to hide.

The Will Smith humiliation and now that Madonna video exposes the emptiness of hedonism. They had it all, at least what the world calls "having it all." Fame. Money. Unlimited sexual partners.

And they decay before us, as a body without a soul slowly implodes into itself.

Glenn Greenwald

Liberal icon @TheRickWilson fabricated a quote, attributed it to me, and now his drooling Dem fans are saying this is proof I'm a traitor. They should transfer more of their paycheck to his account to satiate their rage.

*Fake quotes are fine with Twitter if for the right cause:

Greenwald:

"See, they tied their own hands behind their backs and shot themselves in the back of the head. Vladimir Putin's brave, strong, morally upright young men were merely trying to liberate them. In fact, I'm sure this was a neo-con plot to make Putin look bad."

Literally they just blocked Hunter Biden laptop.

But now - they tell the truth.

Why do you believe this?

The moment I realized Stewart lacked any real moral compass was during past Gaza conflict where he gleefully dumped on Israel for giving warning "knocks" and phone calls before hitting a building being used to fire rockets. No engagement with issues of self defense. Just empty snark

Stewart's on point on many issues and misguided on others. You could say that of a lot of people. The thing I like about Stewart is he gives a shit and is genuinely trying to make a positive difference. Even though I disagree with him on wokeness/racism I respect that about him

Remember when people who warned that lockdowns and restrictions would create economic disaster, increased poverty, waiting list increases, mental health issues, kids welfare concerns and digital ID surveillances were smeared as “covidiots” and “conspiracy theorists”.

Where as not locking down would create a larger number of people dying from Covid
I note you failed to mention #brexit key impacter on our economic woes & Gvt which already had austerity well established poverty growing hugely long before lockdown

Our Blue America @OurBlueAmerica · 29m
Everyone predicted it, which is why nobody was ever called a conspiracy theorist for it. It was well understood that there were very bad downsides to lockdowns, but they were worth the lives saved while vaccines were developed

Everybody knew this stuff

But have you noticed that most of those who smeared us as Covidiots and Conspiracy Theorists still refuse to acknowledge we were right?
That denial of reality is what we're up against

CheltenhamRed @CheltenhamRed · 41m
Replying to @JamesMelville
Lockdown was basically an opportunity for people to con the government out of billions
I know many business that claimed loans and grants for loss of earnings and they never stopped trading for a day and if anything were busier

Afonso @AfonsoCAr · 32m

In Portugal, we don't have any lockdowns anymore, but that's what still mostly happens to people when they criticise the government for keeping the mask mandate in schools and other indoor places, even though most European nations have already lifted those restrictions

Covid-19 has accounted for only a minority of the excess deaths

The Ukraine flag is just the latest "current thing" to act as a surrogate for unified purpose in society.

It's a naff replacement for the threads that used to bind us - community, patriotism, identity, which have all been pulverised by the atomization wrought by modernity.

Part of the reason adolescents are into all this gender bending shite is obviously because they had no authentic culture or music growing up, no outlet.

Our generation's "phase" involved growing your hair and being a bit obnoxious, not identifying as "non-binary."

It's the first round of the French presidential election.

And the regime is terrified the people may actually exercise their democratic will to vote in a leader who prioritizes the French.

The horror!

Effectively, everyone who volunteered with Britain's vaccine programme was a cultural Marxist who agreed to rat out right wingers to the government.

So, the end? I had had enough and made what in retrospect was a very well-timed decision to quit just two months before anyone had ever heard of Wuhan and its virology institute. When the calls for help from the retired came, I thought I would volunteer to help with vaccinations, only to be met by a requirement to do 22 training courses before I could be considered, amongst which were 'courses' on 'Diversity and Equality' and 'Preventing Radicalisation'. Some of the questions in the 'exams' required to pass these courses were astounding even to me; For example to pass the multiple choice online exams I would have to have said that if a midwife was visiting the house of a new mother and saw a 'right wing political party leaflet' on the living room table she ought to report it to social services or her manager so that action could be taken, or that a 'right wing extremist' was far more likely to blow up a pop concert than a follower of Islam, or that it was only because of racist abuse directed against him that a follower of Islam might wish to cause harm to others. Quite what all this had to do with giving a COVID immunisation I didn't quite know, so instead of giving the 'wrong' answers to the exams I contributed to the cause by doing

The establishment, whether Republican or Communist, closes ranks to protect Macron.

11:30am: Failed candidates urge voters to block Le Pen from power

Candidates who failed to reach the second round of the presidential election have called on the electorate to vote for Emmanuel Macron in the second round.

Jean-Luc Mélenchon (France Unbowed), Valérie Pécresse (The Republicans), Anne Hidalgo (Socialist Party), Fabien Roussel (French Communist Party), Yannick Jadot (Europe Ecology The Greens) and Philippe Poutou (New Anticapitalist Party) have called on their supporters to cast votes against Le Pen in order to prevent a victory for the extreme right.

Elon Musk not taking a board seat is bullish for free speech coming back to Twitter.

The board seat was a proposed tactic by Twitter's current execs & board to curb his influence (limiting his maximum shares to 14.9%).

Musk can now pursue a hostile takeover if he so chooses.

69% may be a far stretch, but if he convinced a few people on the board that cares more about money than the woke, it's quite possible that he quickly secures 42.0% stake+influence on 4/20 (small chance of 69%). He may even buy/sell a little to make it an exact 42.0%

I see #Masks is trending.

It's very simple. If you want to wear a completely useless bit of cloth or plastic on your face, no one is stopping you.

But the days of playing guinea-pig in some crap compliance experiment are over for the vast majority.

Move to China maybe?

What is happening in Shanghai, China is absolutely horrendous. People are being incarcerated at home with lack of food provisions and pets are being destroyed. Zero Covid authoritarianism has become sick, twisted and inhumane. And yet, some people still support it.

The widely reported pervasive fear among the Twitter workforce that Elon Musk may endanger or even end their systemic censorship regime illustrates how central of a tactic internet censorship has become for US liberalism. Information control is vital to their worldview.

Here's @RBReich in the Guardian today warning of the grave dangers of Elon Musk's free speech views. He frames it as billionaire control of the internet

But that's what we have now: tech oligarchs dictating what can and can't be said on the internet:

Breaking: NYPD named Frank James as a person of interest in the #Brooklyn mass shooting. I looked into his social media. Like the Waukesha suspect & the Louisville BLM activist who allegedly tried to assassinate a mayoral candidate, he appeared to be a fan of black nationalism.

So the president is going to deliver a speech on the danger of black nationalism right?

Kasey had received her dose of the AstraZeneca coronavirus vaccine two weeks before her admission to hospital as part of the Yorkshire Ambulance Service NHS Trust's immunisation programme. Kasey was on a placement as a frontline worker and was offered her vaccine before it was rolled out to other 18 year olds. Her inquest heard that she had suffered all of the "common" side effects of the vaccine and that these lasted for approximately 12 to 18 hours.

Two weeks later Kasey was screaming in pain with the worst headache she had ever experienced. When she was admitted to hospital a CT scan was reported as "normal" and Kasey remained in hospital. Three days after her admission Kasey was administered with a dose of platelets and her inquest heard that she began to rapidly deteriorate. Kasey began to suffer from fits and her inquest heard that she was "not responding to seizure control".

As I indicated this weekend, I believe that the company should be private to go through the changes that need to be made.

After the past several days of thinking this over, I have decided I want to acquire the company and take it private.

I am going to send you an offer letter tonight. It will be public on the morning.

Are you available to chat?

VOICE SCRIPT

Best and Final

- I am not playing the back-and-forth game
- I have moved straight to the end
- It's a high price and your shareholders will love it
- If the deal doesn't work given that I don't have confidence in management nor do I believe I can drive the necessary changes in the public market, I would need to reconsider my position as a shareholder

I am frightened by the impact on society and politics if Elon Musk acquires Twitter. He seems to believe that on social media anything goes. For democracy to survive, we need more content moderation, not less.

@elonmusk: "Twitter has become kind of the de facto town square, so it's really important that people have both the reality and the perception that they're able to speak freely within the bounds of the law."

Taylor purposely wrote the article to imply the confirmation came from me. She had already announced to multiple people she knew the name and would publish it. The WP tried to pretend I provided the confirmation because they're lying gossips who lie routinely about their enemies.

I really want to see the parallel world in which people visit Taylor's house and the homes and workplaces of her relatives to dig up dirt on her. I have a strong feeling the people defending Taylor doing this to private citizens won't be similarly supportive if it's done to her.

There are 2 lies from the WPost here: 1) the Post linked to a document that contained the work address and other work details of the anonymous Twitter user they doxxed, and 2) her name was not "public knowledge" anywhere, including among journalists who spoke with her. Both lies.

Is anyone defending what Taylor Lorenz and the Post did here willing to claim they'd have the same positive reaction if someone went to the homes of Taylor and her parents/siblings to investigate her, or who unmasked, say, a popular anonymous trans or BLM Twitter user? Please

My favourite thing is when people in trying to prove that "cancel culture isn't real" or downplay it, they give examples of all the times it didn't work.

It's like saying murder isn't real by posting attempted murder cases.

This is an example of an educator who lost their job after I posted their own video. A professor who wants to destigmatize pedophelia. This is who the left is defending.

Thought this had to be a troll, but it appears to be genuine.

When a plumber came into my apartment to do a repair, I required him to wear a brand-new 3M N95 respirator which I gladly provided. No problem. Afterwards, I wore a 3M N100 and ventless goggles, opened windows, and used a box fan to ventilate. After several hours, it was okay

Taylor Lorenz, who had millions of Bezos dollars behind her and coordinated with leftist media to dox a private citizen, is the real victim here.

Taylor Lorenz
@TaylorLorenz

The amount of insane stuff that's happened over the past 24hrs has been unbelievable. It's eye opening to see how sophisticated & vicious these coordinated attacks have become. I'm grateful to work at a company that takes these issues seriously and is supportive. I'm doing great!
